Champion Golf Club Organizes For Season 1941

A meeting of the golf club was held April 22nd at which it was decided to make a determined effort to have a good club and to keep the course in shape for the 1941 season. Officers for 1941 are as follows: Martin G. Clever-Hon. President, W. A. McIntyre—President, J. A. Mark—Vice President, A. K. Butler—Secy-Treas., W. A. McIntyre—Men's captain, Mrs. McIntyre—Women's captain.

Executive—Geo. Orr, Fred Clever, Geo. Depue.

Grounds Committee—Geo. Orr, W. A. McIntyre.

Fees—Men $8, ladies $1, beginners $1, out of town members $1.50 (including family.)

The matter of keeping the weeds down was discussed and it was decided that either sheep be pastured on the course or a drag be obtained to cut the weeds. The matter is to be gone into further.

It was decided to offer the job of cleaning up the course to the Boy Scouts.

Let us all get together and form a good club. There is little to do in the summer and with a fair place to play golf in Champion it would be too bad to see it go to waste. It might look queer for full grown people to chase that little white ball around, but try it sometime, it's fun.

on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The extent of the damage is not known.

The directors of Keho Dome Oil Co. held a meeting at Champion on Wednesday April 17th, at which J. A. Gow of Barons was elected to the Board of Directors of the company. Drilling requirements and other matters discussed. The company wants to begin drilling operations as soon as possible. If the whole amount of stock is sold it is felt then that drilling can be started in a month or so. A drive is now being made to complete the sale of this stock.

Art. Chaproniere left last week for Montreal where he has a position in the Vickers' munitions factory.

I. Fisher Residence Razored by Fire

The I. Fisher residence, about one mile west of town was totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday of this week.

Mrs. Fisher, who was alone at the farm that morning and was engaged in domestic duties in a building detached from the house, did not notice that the place was afire till too late to do anything toward its extinguishing. She ran most of the distance to town to get assistance, but volunteers from Champion arrived too late to save but a few pieces of furniture and some clothing—the rest of the contents and the house being entirely demolished in a very short time.

The property was partly covered by insurance.

The newly married couple honeymooned at Calgary and Drumheller, returning to Bellevue where the bride will finish her term as school teacher and then join Mr. Truba at Champion.

CALDWELL—HOLDREN

SPIKING RUMORS

Herbert Morrison, Home Secretary for Britain, has spiked the statement circulated recently, that shipment overseas of woolen comforts and supplies takes up needed shipping space and that Canadians should send money instead of relief material for Britain's Civil Defence. In a cable to Norman Somerville, Chairman Central Council Canadian Red Cross Society, Mr. Morrison states:

"Glad to be able to remove misapprehension about Civil Defence comforts scheme. Please convey to the Canadian Red Cross my deep and grateful appreciation of their unstinted help to our civilian army of antiair raid defence workers through the supplies which they are sending to the Civil Defence comforts scheme. Canada's gifts of money are greatly valued. No less so is the stream of comforts knitted by devoted hands all over the Dominion. Tucked away in the corners of ships among the munitions you send us, these comforts add a touch of warm human kindness to the grimmer contributions made by your great country to the common effort. These comforts will be used as a central reserve from which to supply heavily attacked areas. I desire neither gifts in cash or in kind to be interrupted and I hope this reassurance removes all difficulties." Signed H. Morrison.

Since the beginning of the beginning of the year, the Canadian Red Cross overseas has distributed to bombed civilians and fighting forces some 1,211,657 articles which was more than the total distribution of 1940. In addition 225,666 articles of relief clothing were given out and 502,660 surgical dressings.

EDITORIALS ARE READ

Some people wonder if an editorial in a small weekly paper has any effect, and whether the space taken by the writing of the editor or publisher would not be better employed if devoted to local reading matter. The editors who write them often wonder themselves. Seldom do we receive too much praise for our efforts and often we receive letters when the item in question presses home to some one too close. But aside from this what is their effect upon national or local life. There is no doubt there are innumerable examples of the influence created by the support to certain causes. We have recently received personal letters in connection with certain of our editorials but to become impersonal we quote instances of two cases which have come to our attention. Mrs. Perry, editor of the Elora Express, is not in favor of sending Canadian money to Japan to pay for raw silk, just so that ladies in Canada can wear silk stockings. She has written several articles in her small paper. Last week a representative of a big manufacturing concern visited her to ask her to present the other side of the picture. Evidently her editorials had effect. Another editor made caustic remarks about one of the big and important Canadian journals and then forgot all about it. Weeks later it was mentioned to him by a man who works for the publishing house. This was one of the smaller weekly editors too who caused so much concern by the big fellow. He said he was being stabbed in the house of a friend.

Yes editorials often bring results not even expected by the writer.

Weeds and Flowers

Last year we announced a service which would assist farmers and young people in becoming familiar with the many kinds of weeds which infest farm lands and gardens. Specimens may be handed to any grain buyer serving any one of the elevator companies associated with the work of the Agricultural Department. The grain buyer will be glad to send the plants on to us for identification.

It is very important to secure good specimens. The entire plant, including flowers and roots, should be sent, unless it happens to be an elm tree or a willow!

Young people or others interested in botany are welcome to submit any plants they care to. We have built up a good collection of native plants, and expect to add many more this summer. There is no end of pleasure to be found in making and preserving plant collections, and young people living in the country should try it. We are preparing a circular dealing with collecting, pressing, mounting and labelling specimens, copies of which may be secured from The Agricultural Department, The North-West Line Elevators Association, Winnipeg.

We are playing host to several dangerous perennial weeds which may be cheaply and readily eradicated if caught in time. Once they are well established it may cost more than the land is worth to get rid of them. If every young man over twelve could name every weed on the home farm, we would be well on the way to winning the weed war.
